The Amsterdam Pub is situated right in the centre of Whistler village and its patio is one of the busiest in town-Summer or winter. By day good priced pub food is served which continues well into the evening. At night the atmosphere is relaxed with either sport on TV or music blaring from the sound system. The crowd is usually a good mixture of both locals and tourists but usually attract a younger crowd at night. Inside the walls are full of old posters for concerts & movies and there was obviously a bit of thought put into its decoration. The servers are usually quite attractive young ladies if you are in to that type of thing.

Due to its central location there will always be a few people to chat to if you are flying solo. Next door is Maxx Fish nightclub so you can easily wander downstairs for a dance if walking around is not your thing.
